ARREST AND RELEASE ON BAIL OF MULANGI MPHEGO

Majesty Media confirms that Mulangi Mphego was arrested on 19 October 2026 in connection with an allegation of unlawful possession of ammunition. He appeared before the Johannesburg Magistrates' Court on 20 October 2026 and was released on R5,000 bail.

Mulangi Mphego maintains his innocence. The charge remains before the court and will be addressed through his legal representatives.

He remains willing to cooperate with the investigation and to submit to lawful process. He will continue to exercise his rights on the advice of his legal representatives.

His call for justice for Lieutenant General Sindile Mfazi remains unchanged. The truth about General Mfazi's death must be established, and those responsible must be brought to justice on the evidence.

He continues to call for investigative efforts to focus on establishing what happened to General Mfazi and securing accountability through the criminal justice system. He supports a thorough and lawful investigation that serves that purpose.

Majesty Media asks that reporting distinguish the ammunition charge from the investigation into General Mfazi's death, and allegations from findings made by a court. Further authorised updates will be communicated through Majesty Media.
